Dan Chubb practices corporate and commercial law and has significant experience in commercial real estate and leasing transactions, banking and financial services, mergers and acquisitions, and franchise law. He delivers superb service to clients by quickly understanding their business needs and providing pragmatic advice and solutions.

In commercial real estate and leasing transactions, Dan advises Canadian and international clients on a diverse range of real estate matters, including real property acquisitions and dispositions, commercial leasing and new project developments. His clients include public and private companies, REITs, financial institutions, non-profit corporations, international developers and investors, agricultural and industrial businesses, and commercial retailers.

In banking and financial services, Dan represents financial institutions, private lenders, and Canadian and international borrowers in a variety of secured and unsecured debt financing transactions—including single lender and syndicated financings, asset-based and mortgage and construction financings, acquisition financings and multijurisdictional or cross-border lending.

Dan is recognized as a leading lawyer by Lexpert for Property Leasing and for Banking and Financial Institutions, and in Best Lawyers for Corporate Law, Real Estate Law and for Banking and Finance Law. He frequently presents to industry groups and associations on legal developments in banking and commercial real estate.

He is a member of the Law Society of Alberta and the Canadian Bar Association.
